B.O. ALUMNI WALKING THE RED CARPET IN HOLLYWOOD

It's a life of Hollywood red carpets for Van White ('03) who's pursuing an acting career, working on the Paramount and Warner Brothers studio lots.

In 2007, after graduating from Northwestern State University, White headed to "Hollywood South" immersing himself in the booming TV/film industry in Louisiana. Working behind the scenes on several projects gave him a hands-on crash course of operations from the lowest-budgeted films to multi-million dollar studio projects. His last project before leaving New Orleans was the film "The Expendables," directed by Sylvester Stallone.

After two years in production, White headed west in 2009. The calling of L.A. was too loud for the actor inside him to ignore. He's currently studying in a two-year program with the D.W. Brown Acting Studio in Santa Monica, California. White is also a moderator for casting director workshops. This helps him build professional relationships with casting directors, who invite actors to audition for projects.

Van wears many hats aside from acting. He's busy writing, producing, directing, and working as a production assistant. This experience, he hopes will one day land him a role in the cast of an ensemble TV show. "I just want to be an actor, who can tell a story with a message that can take you away to place where anything is possible," White said. One day, he'd love to return to Louisiana to shoot a feature film. Hosting Saturday Night Live is another "secret" goal.

Pi Kappa Phi helped prepare White for the professional world. Leadership skills and moments of trial and error have taught him valuable lessons, he uses each day. Some of his favorite moments include his first time at the cabins during Rose Ball with his pledge class. "The camaraderie of the brotherhood is something I really miss," he said. His senior year, White produced, directed, and starred in a production called "The Window" that benefitted Push America. Several members of the Beta Omicron Chapter helped behind the scenes.

In his spare time Van enjoys playing poker, golf, doing improv, and exploring the State of California with his dog Suzi-Q.

ALUMNI INITIATES WELCOMED AT FOUNDERS DAY

The Beta Omicron Chapter marked the 105th anniversary of Pi Kappa Phi's founding with their annual banquet. Alumni, active and associate members gathered on Saturday, December 12, 2009 in historic Russell Hall to share a meal in honor of the friendship of the seven Pi Kappa Phi founders. Earlier in the day, Alex Ferry and Josh Manotas were initiated into the brotherhood of Pi Kappa Phi. Ferry was a member of Phi Kappa Nu, a local fraternity that became Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity when it chartered at NSU in 1956. Having transferred to the NSU-Shreveport nursing campus before the transition to Pi Kappa Phi, Ferry never initiated with the founding group. Manotas is close friends with several members of Pi Kappa Phi, but never sought membership in a fraternity.

Dr. Alex Ferry holds a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Northwestern State University, a Masters of Science in Nursing from the University of Pennsylvania, a Masters of Arts from the University of San Francisco, a Masters of Science from Xavier University, New Orleans, and a Doctorate of Education from Nova Southeastern University. He is a graduate of the United States Army Nurse Corps School of Nurse Anesthesia, Ft. Sam Houston, Texas. Dr.

Ferry served 12 years on the Louisiana Board of Nursing as a gubernatorial appointee by three different Louisiana Governors. Dr. Ferry is an active member in professional and service organizations. He was an appointed gubernatorial member of the Nursing Supply and Demand Commission and was appointed to represent the Louisiana State Board of Nursing. He was elected and served as President of the Louisiana State Nurses Association (LSNA), the Louisiana Association of Nurse Anesthetists, and has served on multiple committees in the American Nurses Association and the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists. He is an appointed member of the Board of Trustees of Rapides Regional Medical Center, Alexandria, Louisiana. Dr. Ferry is a retired Colonel in the US Army Nurse Corps and has served in administration, education, and practice positions. Prior to his current retirement he was the CEO/Administrator of the Dubuis Hospital in Alexandria. In 2003 he assumed the position of Chair of the Division of Nursing at the Louisiana College in Pineville, Louisiana and retired in 2008. He and his wife currently live in Pensacola, Florida.

Joshua Manotas has served admirably for 10 years in the United States Army. He currently serves as a UH-60 Blackhawk Helicopter Flight Instructor. Manotas trains, then evaluates the crew chiefs that fly in the rear of the helicopter. During his service, he has been deployed twice and has been stationed 3 times overseas. He will soon transition to civilian life and plans to pursue employment with a Gulf Coast helicopter company to work with offshore helicopters. Josh is married to Jessica Akin Manotas, who is the chapter advisor for Alpha Omicron Pi sorority at NSU.
